2012 National Conference Bursary Application

Applicants must submit a completed Bursary Application form along with your organizations most recent audited income statements by February 3, 2012.

The CAGP-ACPDTM Conference Bursary Program is designed to contribute to the professional development of individuals in the gift planning profession - or those who provide advice to donors, who might otherwise be unable to attend CAGP-ACPDTM's Educational offerings due to financial constraints. Equally important is our desire to promote equal opportunity and cultural diversity, reflective of Canadian society, within the gift planning field.

The Bursary Program offers financial support in the form of waived registration fees only.

Qualifications

All applicants must currently be a CAGP-ACPDTM member in good standing and have been a member for 3 months prior to this application. Applicants applying for CAGP-ACPDTM membership at time of bursary application are not eligible for a bursary.

Applicants from all organizations, regardless of size, are welcome to apply. Preference will be given to individuals in organizations that, due to smaller size and staffing budgets, would be unable to otherwise afford these educational opportunities. Only one application per organization will be considered. Exceptions will be made for national organizations that have several regional offices.

Once a National Bursary has been granted, further bursary applications for any national CAGP-ACPDTM event will not be accepted from that individual for a period of five (5) years.

Coverage

Our policy stipulates that bursaries will cover registration fees only. However, travel and accommodation expenses for the national conference might be covered for some bursaries - depending on the bursary sponsors stipulations. For more details on the available bursaries and coverage, please see the section entitled "Conference Bursaries 2012".

Application Procedure

Applicants must submit a completed Bursary Application form along with your organizations most recent audited income statements by February 3, 2012.

If your attendance depends on you receiving a bursary, you do not need to register or complete a registration form. Should you receive a bursary, that information will be collected later.

The CAGP-ACPDTM Conference Bursary Committee will review all applications and inform all applicants of its decision at least six weeks before the event.
