

Janice Meighan

Janice has worked in the non-profit and corporate sectors as an executive director of operations, senior fundraising professional, campaign strategist, senior end-user business systems analyst and a corporate trainer. Janice has performed multiple organizational audits and written complex governance and multi-year fundraising plans. She has also directed numerous planned giving campaigns and comprehensive business-systems audits for large universities, hospitals and other non-profits in North America.

As co-founder of Empowerment Dialogue Inc., Janice has created, designed and facilitated workshops in the charitable and corporate sectors utilizing soft-skills to develop and enhance the art and language of relationship and face-to-face fundraising – knowing that we empower others as we empower ourselves.

Janice holds her Master's degree from the University of Toronto and certificates in user-systems development, leadership training, and bereavement and grief education.

Janice is the published author of Feisty and Fearless: Glimpses into the Life of Lois M. Wilson, a biography on one of Canada's great Canadian women.
