Brad Quiring
Manager of Donor Engagement, MCC Canada

Brad loves fundraising.

Over the years, he's had the chance to work with some of the best in the business. It's ignited a passion in him to learn everything there is to learn about fundraising — a level of “nerding out” that his wife will never understand.

(sorry, Sarah)

Each and every day, Brad is excited to go to work. He's proud to tell his kids that he's a fundraiser — someone that works hard to make a difference in the world. Someone that gets to witness the beauty of generosity.

Because he truly believes that fundraising is the best job out there.

Today, he serves as the Manager of Donor Engagement for Mennonite Central Committee (MCC), helping raise more than $40M annually.

Brad holds a Master of Philanthropy and Non-Profit Leadership (MPNL) from Carleton University and serves in an advisory capacity for several small charities near and dear to his heart.
