

Dr. Carla Funk

A CAGP member, Carla has served on the local Vancouver Island Chapter since 2006, a consistent presenter at National Conferences, and a national Board Director for over 5 years.

She started her career in Africa and Europe. It was when she returned to Canada 21 years ago that she entered the world of strategic charitable giving. In BC she has worked with environmental, health research, children's health, and First Nations organizations.

Carla earned a doctorate from Royal Roads University (2016) and has since translated parts of her findings into leadership skills workshops. She is President and CEO at Transform International Canada, conducts research, writes and teaches.
