

Kris Love

Kris has worked in the trust and estate fields for 35 years, in jurisdictions outside British Columbia, including Ontario and the Caribbean. Her areas of specialization include estate and trust tax compliance and charitable giving.

With Solus Trust Company Limited, Kris manages complex and multi-jurisdictional estates and trusts encompassing beneficiaries and assets in jurisdictions outside BC including: the United States, China, the United Kingdom, Germany, France, Ireland, the Caribbean, and most of the other Canadian provinces.

Ten years working for the BC Cancer Foundation as a Planned Giving Officer responsible for estate gift administration, including bequests, designated funds, insurance and registered funds has given Kris the expertise to assist charitable beneficiaries. A large portion of her client base is comprised of litigation files where gifts to charity are being challenged by disinherited family members. Kris' Trust Officer chops were honed by Royal Trust Corporation of Canada in the 1980's and 1990's.

Kris is currently the Treasurer for the Greater Vancouver Chapter of the CAGP.
