

Ryan Fraser, CFP[®], MFA-P[™], RIS, CIM

Ryan is a nationally known Financial Planning & Philanthropy expert, with an extensive background as a leader, volunteer and founder of many charitable organizations. He specializes in working with individuals who wish to incorporate their personal value system into their financial planning experience.

Ryan is also a faculty member for the Master Financial Advisor – Philanthropy Designation (MFA-P), and a past president of the Estate Planners Council of London. Prior to this he was chair of the Canadian Association of Gift Planners (CAGP) London Roundtable. He was founding President of The Secrets of Radar Museum, and has served extensively in leadership positions on boards and committees of numerous not-for-profit organizations including Brain Tumour Foundation of Canada, London Heritage Council, Trillium Plus Music & Letters and many others.

Ryan's extensive commitment to the not-for-profit sector has also been twice recognized by the Province of Ontario, which awarded him the Ontario Volunteer Service Award in both 2009 and 2015. He is a graduate of both the University of Michigan and the University of Western Ontario, where he was awarded the University Gold Medal. Most recently, he was granted the prestigious Friend of CAGP award for his impact on strategic philanthropy across Canada.

Beyond his passion for philanthropy and finance, he is also an award-winning astrophotographer, whose works have been featured by Canada's national astronomy magazine SkyNews, and also featured across Canada on CTV. He is the author of a newly published book on personal finance, charity & estate planning, entitled "Driven by Purpose" www.drivenbypurpose.ca. Ryan's wife Bridget and their three children, Brennan, Liam and Haydn are his inspiration for philanthropy and community service.
